Global Web Solutions Wears the Crown at Web Awards 2006 - wins top international awards in 3 out of 4 categories

(PRLEAP.COM) At the first ever WSI International Web Awards, Global Web Solutions (GWS), a global production center and solutions partner for WSI, the world's leading internet solutions provider walked away with three out of the total four prestigious awards presented at a dazzling ceremony in Las Vegas, Nevada on September 25th, 2006. Over 1500 Internet Consultants from around the world cast their votes honoring GWS with the awards for:

- Best Product Showcase: <http://www.food4africa.org/>
- Creative Excellence: <http://www.got2b.com/>
- Best Overall Site: <http://www.got2b.com/>

Bumianto Polina, General Manager, Global Web Solutions says, "We are honored to have received these Web Awards in the inaugural year of judging. It is our ongoing endeavor to enhance our capabilities further and raise the bar within the e-marketplace. As a Production Center, we appreciate every opportunity to work together with WSI Consultants. We listen to their needs for timely delivery and align our team to provide a timely and cost effective Internet solution. Together, we simplify the Internet delivery for all Internet Consultants and their customers.

Chuck Bankoff, a WSI Consultant in Orange County, California spoke about the got2b.com website project, "This was a particularly demanding project because the client was unusually involved in the creative concepts. That meant we had to be fast and flexible to make changes to facilitate the client's review process. GWS gave me unprecedented access to their creative department that allowed us to work virtually in real time. Turn-around time from the GWS team was consistently, next day! The client couldn't have been happier and that is our greatest accomplishment that GWS helped us achieve." The got2b.com website is visually appealing in its imagery and creatively impacts the trendy, youthful target audience looking for top-of-the-line hair care products. Going beyond Creative Excellence, the site was also honored as the Best Overall Site for being an outstanding example of creative layout, functionality and industry-focused best practices.

Speaking about his experience with GWS in working to deliver the food4africa.org website Francois Muscat a WSI Consultant in South Africa said, "From the beginning we received exceptional service from GWS. They assisted us in every way; sometimes calling us on the phone, all the way from Canada when they needed further clarity with our projects. GWS are a pleasure to work with and have truly helped us exceed customer expectations." The site, whose purpose is to help visitors better understand the seriousness of the malnutrition problem in Africa and give them an opportunity to help, won the award based on its clear and effective demonstration of the client's product/service focus.
